Tri-City Healthcare District Awards $300,000 in Community Grants

16 local non-profits receive grants from the district's Community Health Alliance Committee

OCEANSIDE, Calif. – The Tri-City Healthcare District has long been committed to improving the health and wellbeing of those in the community. On June 29, through its community grants program, the district awarded 16 local non-profit organizations with $300,000 in funding ranging from $5,000 to $45,000 each.

The healthcare district's Board of Directors allocated the funds for healthcare projects run by non-profit agencies located in or serving the citizens of Carlsbad, Oceanside, and Vista and that address the healthcare district's priority issues: access to healthcare, health conditions related to lifestyle and mental health.

This year's funded programs range from mental health services for children and teens to hospice and bereavement care.

"We are proud to support these non-profits and partner with them on programs that help improve the community's health and wellbeing. We look forward to seeing the great work they do throughout the year," said Julie Nygaard, Chair of the Community Healthcare Alliance Committee and Tri-City Healthcare District Director.
